- We were joined by Councillor Angus Millar, the convenor for Climate, Glasgow Green Deal, Transport and City Centre Recovery

"People think disabled people can't help with climate change but we can. Use us, listen to us and involve us in climate action!"

BAME Network

GDA's BAME network brings together members from Black, Asian and minority ethnic (BAME) backgrounds, to provide a safe space, peer support and a place to acknowledge and tackle the additional barriers and exclusion caused by the racism – conscious and unconscious – that exists across our society.

The group meet regularly and is a dedicated safe space which centres the voices and lived experience of our BAME disabled members.

Young Drivers for Change (14-30 years old)

Young Disabled People experience multiple barriers and poorer life outcomes than non-disabled young people.

GDA has been working with young disabled people for almost 2 decades and has been busting the barriers faced by providing transport, personal assistance, communication support and anything else needed so that young people can take part.

The group offers a safe space for peer support to meet other young disabled people, make friends and share ideas for future activities.

LGBT Network

The LGBT Disabled People's Network brings together members of GDA who identify as LGBT to create a safe, inclusive community space.

The LGBT Disabled People's Network have regular informal peer support sessions over zoom, facilitated by Charlotte, to provide an accessible forum for collective voice and a safe space to get information about rights, services and opportunities.
